DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. This Office action is responsive to applicant's amendment filed February 8, 2006. Claims 1-19 are pending. The amendments to claims 1, 10 and 19 will be entered.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments, see pages 8-10 of the current amendment, filed February 8, 2006, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1-19 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view a previously unidentified deficiency in the claim language of claim 19.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Functional descriptive material comprising computer programs that impart functionality when employed as a computer component ("computer-executable program," recited in claim 19) must be embodied on a computer readable medium to impart its functionality.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-18 are allowed.
5. Claim 19 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 101, set forth in this Office action.

Art Unit: 2625

6. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: In view of applicant's arguments as set forth on pages 8-10 of the current amendment, it is agreed that the cited prior art does not disclose or suggest execution of a predetermined command when it is determined that an identification name related to object information of a performed process matches an identification name registered as a first executable condition and that the type of performed process matches a type registered as a second executable condition, as recited in base claims 1, 10 and 19.

Conclusion

7. In view of new grounds for rejection not necessitated by amendment, this Office action is non-final.
